The Original Cocktail - 14

Our house cocktails go back to the origin of the recipe, to the very first expression of the drink ever made.

Martinez

Gin, sweet vermouth, maraschino liqueur, angostura bitter

The grandfather to the Martini.

Gimlet

Navy strength gin, lime

Dr. Sir Thomas Gimlette prescribed this cocktail to officers to help with disease in 1879.

Boulevardier

Whisky, sweet vermouth, Campari

Dating back to 1927, it's a Negroni, but made with whisky.

Negroni

Gin, vermouth, Campari

First made in Florence, Italy, in 1919, now a popular apéritif all around the world.

Clover Club

Gin, fresh raspberries, lemon, egg white

A favourite in the 1880's, born amidst the leather arm chairs of a gentlemen's club in Philadelphia.

Sazerac

Whisky, cognac, absinthe, bitters

Quite possibly the world's first cocktail, dating back to the early 19th century.

Sidecar

Cognac, lemon, cointreau

Created in a small bistro in Paris, where a captain was regularly driven to and from in his 'Sidecar'.

Picador

Tequila, lime, cointreau

Before the Margarita came the Picador. It's very similar, just without the salted rim...
